

Archipelago safari

A voyage of discovery

NordGuide offers you a fantastic opportunity to spend a whole day in Luleå Archipelago, the world's only brackish water archipelago. The tour starts from Luleå's southern harbour and calls at several of the 700 isles and islands in the archipelago. On the islands we look at everything from ancient labyrinths to fishing communities, and we hear some fantastic stories. There is also time during the day for swimming, sunbathing and fishing. When we start feeling peckish NordGuide's personnel prepare and serve lunch and dinner with ingredients from the archipelago waters. After dinner we round off with a wood-fired sauna and a dip in the water. The rich history of the islands and the guides' service make this a pleasant and thrilling experience in Luleå's beautiful archipelago.

About Swedish Lapland

Norrbottnen is the northernmost county in Sweden, with a population of 250,000 people, 160,000 reindeer and 65,000 snowmobiles spread over a quarter of Sweden's total area. We represent 2.8 % of the Swedish population which totals nine million. Norrbotten has 14 local authorities or municipalities. In area, Kiruna is the biggest and Haparanda the smallest. Luleå Municipality has the largest population – 72,000 – while Arjeplog has the smallest with just 3,000. Norrbotten contains the highest mountain in Sweden, Kebnekaise (2,111 m), as well as the deepest lake, Hornavan (226 m). Three of Sweden's four state-protected rivers run through Norrbotten: the Torne, Kalix and Pite rivers.
